Whale and Dolphin Watching

Enjoy the ultimate eco-tourist attraction: Whale and Dolphin Watching.

Whales migrating from both hemispheres pass by Costa Rica. So you have a pretty good chance of seeing whales if you are here in the right season!

Every whale watching tour is different but always a pleasure. There are days that we encounter dolphins close to shore, but no whales, or we just see them from a distance. Other days we get to witness a Humpback Whale mom teaching her baby to breach and at times it is possible to get a very close encounter with these magnificent animals.

There's a huge resident population of dolphins up and down Costa Rica's west coast. So it's pretty likely you can catch a glimpse of these playful creatures as well. Throughout the tour you'll enjoy the scenic beauty of the coastline, numerous islands and beaches in the Gulf of Nicoya. In addition to the whales and dolphins we often encounter sea turtles, manta rays, eagle rays, fish eagles and a lot of other fascinating wildlife.

The chances to observe whales and dolphins are high but not always guaranteed. This is because they both move over large distances. So we can't always predict the exact place where they are.
